“ As an Independent charter school founder with little business experience, I knew I was in for a steep learning curve over eight years ago when we started the first charter school in our district. I knew that if we were to be successful, we had to be effective at both the instructional and business sides of running a school.

By outsourcing our payroll, benefits, and taxes to ACH, I saved huge amounts of time. I was able to present my employees with a range of benefits and services I could never have found nor negotiated, our payroll was accurate and timely each and every pay period, and I was able to rest assured that my staff members were well taken care of. I did not have to worry if the correct taxes were being taken out.

Lastly, although we do not like to think about dealing with people we have to terminate, ACH also provides the strength and resources you need to deal with employees who are upset about being terminated. The risk of litigation is real and again, ACH provides a buffer between the school and the terminated employee. Their professional and comprehensive team provides the resources you need to deal with such matters.

I have received an effective and comprehensive answer for our payroll and benefits management that allows me to better recruit and retain employees, a key mission for all businesses. If I can answer any questions about our work with ACH, please feel free to contact me.
